Waukesha, Wis., July 30.—[Special Correspondence of The Tribune.] Waukesha is a delightful combination of the quality things of that nature during the week before the republican rush, and it will have to suffer with a short portion of such event. Waukesha, without the least question of a doubt, has more delightful and pleasant boarding houses than any other resort in the country, and all of the hotels in the immediate vicinity are made to look good themselves, to avoid the overflow. The Fountain House has been remodeled, and is handsomer than ever before. The Clarendon Hotel has been enlarged, and is now a magnificent hostelry.
